HEAD OF AFL QUEENSLAND AND INTERNATIONAL

On behalf of the Australian Football League (AFL), it is my pleasure to warmly welcome you to the 2025 TPIL Lawyers QAFL Grand Final Day.

With three premiership flags in contention, we're in for an exceptional day of Australian rules football. How wonderful it is for our competition to host Grand Final Day at Brighton Homes Arena, home of the Brisbane Lions.

It is great to see six clubs participate in Grand Finals today - a testament to the depth and talent across South East Queensland. Congratulations to Redland Victoria Point on reaching third consecutive Grand Final and to Surfers Paradise for securing their spot today in the Seniors. Morningside and Maroochydore will contest the Reserves and Noosa and Aspley will battle in the Colts.

Today we will see the skill, talent and passion on display by our players. But it is also a celebration of everyone behind the scenes who have contributed to another fantastic QAFL season.

I express my gratitude to all the players, coaches, umpires, volunteers, medical staff and administrators involved. I would also like to thank TPIL Lawyers, who are in their first year of sponsoring the QAFL, for their support of our competition.

I also wish to acknowledge the dedicated AFL Queensland staff, whose efforts and hard work are crucial in making this day memorable for everyone.

Good luck to all involved today. Thank you for making our game so great.

JOE GRANT MEDAL

QAFL GRAND FINAL BEST ON GROUND

Former Southport star Clint Watts will present the Joe Grant Medal to the player adjudged Best on Ground at this year's TPIL QAFL Grand Final between Redland-Victoria Point and Surfers Paradise.

The then 19 year old silky skilled Watts was awarded the medal himself 27 years ago with an outstanding performance in the Southport Sharks 11-point victory over arch-rivals Morningside, in the 1998 QAFL Grand Final played at Giffin Park.

Watts was outstanding from the get go with a great snap to kick the opening goal in the Grand Final.

Former Gold Coast Bulletin scribe Terry Wilson described the Grand Final as a 'magnificent pressure packed absorbing struggle'. With the Panthers trailing by 31 points at ¾ time they stormed back into the match with multiple goals until a controversial free kick to star Southport forward Rod Mackay which took the wind out of the Panthers sails.

Watts, a born and bred Queenslander, was a standout player for Southport during his 12 year career.

He first picked up a Sherrin at Coolangatta as a junior, before playing 164 games between 1996 and 2008 at the Sharks, including an incredible six premierships (1998, 1999, 2000, 2005, 2006 and 2008).

Watts established a reputation as a big game player, hurting opposition when it mattered most and when the stakes were at their highest, with a 1998 Joe Grant Medal as best on ground in the QAFL grand final and a 2002 Zane Taylor Medal as the best representative player, in his collection.

A prodigious left-foot kicker, Watts was a regular Queensland representative, donning the maroon seven times between 1999 and 2007. In 2014 Clint Watts was inducted into the Queensland Australian Football Hall of Fame.

The medal was named after Joe Grant, Queensland's first full-time football administrator. Originally from Pyramid Hill in central Victoria, north of Bendigo, he was a loyal Fitzroy man but moved to Brisbane in the early '50s. His appointment as secretary of the QAFL in 1958 was a significant advancement for the code's administration and held that position until 1980.

His exemplary service to the game was acknowledged with the naming of the QAFL Best on Ground medal in his honour for 1981 onwards.

Other notable winners of the Joe Grant Medal include Southport Legend Zane Taylor who was named Best on Ground in 1983 and 1990, Footscray Brownlow Medallist Gary Dempsey in 1987 with Southport in one of the all-time great Grand Finals, and current Collingwood star Jack Crisp in 2013.

In 2019 former Surfers Paradise junior Jack Taylor lived out a boyhood dream as the ultimate team man pick up the honour in a memorable win for the Demons first QAFL Premiership with a win over favourites Palm Beach Currumbin at Metricon Stadium.

In recent seasons Matthew Payne was the winner in 2020 whilst playing at Morningside to coincide with his premiership medal and Grogan Medal in what capped off a remarkable season for one of Queensland's all-time great players.

Rebounding defender Liam Nelson played a major role in the Broadbeach breaking a 25-year premiership drought to win for the cats over Maroochydore. He took home the Best on Ground in 2021.

Aspley's Liam Dawson who had a team high of 24 disposals and 13 contested marks including 11 intercepts was brilliant in defense for the Hornets in their inaugural QAFL premiership win in 2022 then backed it up again in 2024 as the only 2-time winner of the medal.

Morningside midfielder Tom Horne was the recipient of the medal in last year's win over Redland Victoria Point.

2025 has been a terrific journey once again with the club and after 16 years of involvement it's set to be my final season as Senior Coach of the Sharks.

This team and club have endured more adversity than perhaps any other in recent QAFL history but we embrace our story and I'm in awe of our group's ability to move forward, look at areas to improve and keep growing and it's that mindset that has given us another chance at the premiership.

I've been blessed to have a fantastic support crew around me in the coaches box led by Jarrod Keogh and Darryl Steven, our committee led by Ben and Amber Davies and off the field by David Barton and Micky Brown.

We congratulate Surfers on their terrific campaign. Sam and Harrison have led their team well and they have plenty of good players right across the field.

We know better than all teams that there's no guarantees in football. But I can guarantee our boys will come out ready to give it their absolute all in this one

PHIL CARSE

REDLAND-VICTORIA POINT HEAD COACH

This season has been about more than just football – it's been about building strong connections within our playing group and right across the entire Surfers Paradise Demons Football Club. We've worked hard to create an enjoyable and supportive environment where players can develop, push themselves, and get the very best out of their abilities.

The commitment from this group has been outstanding. Every player has shown a willingness to improve, to put in the work, and to embrace the challenges that come with striving for success at QAFL level.

But football is never just about the players and coaches – it takes an enormous effort from so many people behind the scenes. From volunteers, staff, supporters, and families, every contribution has been vital, and we are truly grateful for the passion and commitment shown to our club.

I'm incredibly proud of what this group and our club have achieved so far and I'm equally excited about what lies ahead. We know the challenge that Redlands will present in the Grand Final, and we can't wait to test ourselves against such a quality opponent.

Go Demons!

GRAND FINAL PREVIEW

BY ANDREW BROWNE

Redland Victoria-Point and Surfers Paradise have finalised preparations for today's TPIL Lawyers QAFL Grand Final to be played at Brighton Homes Arena (Michael Voss Oval). In last weekend's Preliminary Finals, RVP put an end to Morningside's title defence while minor premiers Palm Beach-Currumbin succumbed to the rampaging Demons.

This is Redland Victoria Point's third successive grand final appearance after two numbing losses so they will be hoping this is third time lucky!

In 2023 the Sharks were never in the hunt as Aspley took control early and strolled away with the premiership by seven goals. 2024 was a lot closer with the final margin just five points, but the victors Morningside were up by 20 points at three-quarter time before Redland kicked a couple of late goals then missed with two behinds to agonisingly fall short.

Surfers Paradise won their solitary QAFL flag in 2019. However, like their Saturday's opponents the Demons have to reverse recent history against RVP who have won their four previous meetings.

The first week of TPIL LAWYERS QAFL finals saw the extraordinary finish at Totally Workwear Park where the home team (RVP) came back to win over a deflated Surfers Paradise 13.11.(89) to 11.14.(80).

The Demons came into this clash playing their best football of the season and this continued in the first half where they completely dominated their more fancied rivals and at one stage led by 40 points.

The scene was set for a thrilling last quarter with a week off and Preliminary Final berth on the line. Ray Hughson Medallist Matt Hammelmann kicked his fourth for the match then a further two late goals to the Sharks secured a remarkable victory.

They also have met twice this season with RVP winning both - albeit in Round Three (at Surfers) where the margin was only five points on one of those wet weekends. Then in Round 14 at home the Sharks were too good again by 40 points.

Then there is last year's elimination final at Totally Workwear Park where RVP prevailed by 16 points on their way to the Grand Final where they fell short against Morningside. Surfers finished sixth in 2024 and inaccuracy cost them early in that match but got within two points in the last quarter before the Sharks again kicked two late goals. A different finals system this season with the Demons achieving their aim of top four, received the double chance and now these two teams meet again in the Grand Final.

A major difference between last year's final and the contests this year is Matt Hammelmann. He did not play that final and from the 38 goals RVP has kicked against the Demons this year he has managed 16 of them including nine in the Round 14 clash.

Conversely from their four past clashes Surfers have only once managed players kicking more than two goals and that was the recent Qualifying Final where Joe Kennedy and Mitch Patten booted three each. However, the Demons are a team as shown in their two matches since they can find various scoring avenues through their talented midfield. Key midfielders include Cam Ellis-Yolmen, Ben Woodburn (third in J.A Grogan Medal) Matt Doran, Lucas Snowball, Hugh Greenwood, Axel Moore and besides Kennedy and Patten up forward there is Oscar Wood and Laurence King.

The Surfers defence may have learnt a few lessons from the Qualifying Final as their tackling has been ferocious since led by Michael Luxton, Alby Jones, Hamish Anderson and William Broadbent who had the job on Hammelmann last time.

Another key factor for the Demons to consider is Sharks ruckman Craig Malone who individually dominated the hit outs last time 53 to 17 (with the help of Jarrod Huddy) over former Gold Coast Sun Zac Smith who will be working out strategies to try and nullify his opponent's influence.

So often Malone provides first use to a more than useful RVP midfield with some of their playmakers to watch out for include Scott Miller, Ethan Petterwood, Jake Chapman and Mitch Stallard. While Clay Cameron, Dylan Smith and Charlton Offermans joined Hammelman in the Queensland State win over Tassie earlier this year. Joshua Brown and Matthew Hambleton are always prevalent around the goals to assist Hammelmann and as he displayed last week look for the aerial heroics of Darryl McDowell-White while Adrian Williams, Matthew Thomson and Luke O'Sullivan control the backline. The Sharks do have a selection dilemma though with another key player Campbell Aston, who missed the last week through injury. He would be a most valuable asset if fit.

Now the scene is set for the best two teams in TPIL Lawyers QAFL competition to decide this year's premiership. The coaching staff led by Phil Carse (Redland Victoria-Point) and Sam Dwyer (Surfers Paradise) would have spent the week working out the strategies and the plans to find the pathway to success.

In the Sharks case reverse the results from the last two Grand Final appearances and maintain that winning form over Surfers. Dwyer has taken the Demons to the final Saturday in his first year after replacing Matty Lappin who successfully coached Southport two weeks ago to victory in the BOND UNIVERSITY QAFLW competition. How can the Demons nullify Hammelmann, Malone and co. to finally turn recent results in their favour?

All will be revealed at Brighton Homes Arena (Michael Voss Oval) 2:20pm today.

The Maroochydore Football Club is thrilled to once again compete in the TPIL Lawyers Reserves Grand Final. Remarkably, only a third of our current players were part of last year's premiership team, underscoring the dedication and perseverance that our playing group has shown throughout the season to earn this opportunity.

Our squad features a dynamic blend of emerging talent and seasoned players, each contributing significantly to the success of our club. Reaching the Grand Final is a point of immense pride for both our players and the broader club community. It highlights that our development pathways are effective and affirms the ongoing growth and progress of the club.

This moment is the culmination of a season's effort. Sincere thanks go to our senior coaching staff, support personnel, and dedicated volunteers for their unwavering support of this exceptional group of athletes.

SCOTT HAHN
MAROOCHYDORE RESERVES HEAD COACH

I would firstly like to express my sincere thanks to everyone involved with the Morningside AFC senior football program for their support and guidance.

I am immensely proud of the reserve grade group for making their second grand final in a row.

Across the year, 19 teenaged players played reserve grade football with an average age across the group of just under 23 for the year.

They've built a culture of trust, resilience and determination on a desire to enjoy their football. It's been an outstanding effort from a united and quality group of young men and with all 3 senior grades involved in preliminary finals last weekend reinforces that the club development pathway is strong.

We look forward to testing ourselves against a very good Maroochydore outfit who are the current benchmark of the Reserves competition and would also like to thank the QAFL for putting on what I am sure will be a spectacular day.

The Aspley Hornets Colts have shown incredible resilience, growth, and unity throughout the 2025 season. Week after week, these young men have embraced the challenge, trusted in one another, and committed to playing their role for the team.

Our journey to the grand final hasn't been without its challenges, but the way this group has responded speaks volumes about their character. They've built a culture around hard work, selflessness, and belief – qualities that shine brightest in finals football.

We're proud to wear the Hornets jumper and represent our community on the biggest stage. The boys know that a grand final is about more than talent; it's about trust, discipline, and giving absolutely everything for each other.

No matter the result, I couldn't be prouder of what this team has achieved and the way they've carried themselves on and off the field. But make no mistake – we're here to compete, and we're ready to leave it all out there.

Go Hornets!

BRETT ATKINS
ASPLEY COLTS HEAD COACH

After 21 games of hard fought grit and determination, we find ourselves in a position where we can start the rise of our football club in the TPIL Lawyers QAFL.

2025 has brought lots of challenges from the beginning of the year until NOW!

I'd just like to acknowledge my personal staff. Will, Ollie, Walshy, Rory and all the parents and volunteers who have been involved in assisting with various roles during the year.

Today as a group we look forward to the challenge that has been presented to us. To the 36 players which includes 17 under 17 players that have pulled on the Tigers Guernsey, and at times with only 19 players we stand as one and I'm sure we will do our absolute best effort to get the job done for all involved.
