

The Central Australian Football League's most prestigious individual men's award, the Minahan Medal, is named after Mona Minahan.

She was a prominent businesswoman who first donated the medal to the CAFL in 1947.

Mona's Lounge at Traeger Park is also named in her honour. In 1947 and 1948 the Minahan Medal was awarded to the fairest and more brilliant player in the competition as judged by the umpires.

From 1949 - 1980, the Mail Medal became the award voted on by the umpires, while the Minahan Medal was decided by spectators votes until returning to its former status in 1981. The below table has the winners of both the Mail Medal (named first) and Minahan Medal (second name) between 1949 and 1980.
